

PLSD collaborative guidelines

1. All contributors may publish own data on their own.
2. Each group may include the authors they feel right to respect those who over years contributed (i.e. international guidelines on authorship)
3. All reports have to acknowledge all contributors.
4. Contributors are entitled to withdraw their data set.
5. Original data set contributed cannot be given away to others without formal consent from the contributor.
6. There may be a group of the major contributors to decide on which reports to produce when from the data set
